My state is interested in learning about the implementation of Student Learning Objectives, and we are here to learn more about the developmental process, benefits, challenges, etc.

My state in 2012-13 will be beginning or continuing to pilot the use of Student Learning Objectives and has developed some, but not all, of the key tools and documents.

My state is in the planning stage for the use of Student Learning Objectives in pilot districts. We are beginning to develop tools and processes.

My state in 2012-13 will be implementing SLOs as a part of its teacher evaluation system, and districts will be using the evaluation data to inform personnel decisions (no longer piloting).
